ABOUT ME

Cheryl Whitten is an aromatherapist, published writer, entrepreneur, and founder of the Lemon Lover Tribe. She specializes in teaching women and families how to harness the power of nature to take charge of their health and the health of their children. Cheryl graduated Athabasca University with a Bachelor of Arts With Distinction in English Literature and studied aromatherapy with Essence of Thyme College of Holistic Studies. Her case study focus has been on stress & mental health and she will present research on aromatherapy & workplace stress at the Canadian Mental Health Association annual conference. She has used essential oils for 15 years and has a passion for all things natural. Her greatest accomplishment is raising three hippy children whose first medicinal choices are essential oils.
